1. UNIFEM 2010 International Women's Day Breakfast

Carole Theobald

Over 550 women and 5 brave men, including the Minister for Foreign Affairs, Stephen Smith, attended the UNIFEM International Women's Day breakfast at the Hyatt Hotel. The event was the realization of six months' hard work by a committee of dedicated representatives from UNIFEM, Young UNIFEM, BPW, Soroptimists, Federation of University Women, Local Government Women's Association, National Council of Women and Zonta. In fact, 27 Zontians attended from the three metro clubs! The logos of all organizations featured in pre-event publicity, programs and PowerPoints.

Convenor of the event, Anne Banks-McAllister from UNIFEM, welcomed special guests, acknowledged sponsors and reminded everyone of the fund raising nature of the event. The MC was Verity James who stood in at short notice as Babs McHugh could not get back from the Winter Olympics in time for the event. Monies raised were to go to help migrant women workers in Indonesia. There were some great raffle prizes and also a prize of a trip to Singapore if you joined UNIFEM on the day. The event was formally opened by the Hon Robyn McSweeney, Minister for Women's Interests, who acknowledged the participation of all the groups that had shared the event organization and set the scene for the morning. She was followed by Stephen Smith whose speech included reference to some AusAID projects in Indonesia that involved the repair and construction of thousands of primary schools. It is good to be reminded of the great work that AusAID does in the region.

Beth Shaw then gave an inspiring talk that included some of her anecdotes from her time as the Australian Youth Ambassador to the United Nations, that she had shared with our club last year. Beth is a very passionate, young, vibrant woman who in her 'spare time' established a Young UNIFEM group in Perth! Beth is certainly a young woman of the future to look out for.

The audience however was awed by Dr Hamidah Marican. Hamidah is the Director of the Sisters in Islam – an NGO in Malaysia that works to advance the status of women from within Islam by seeking 'alternative options' to the interpretation of the Koran. Hamidah is an exceedingly brave woman. When a Sharia Court recently caned four women for adultery, Hamidah publicly pointed out that the Malaysian Constitution expressly forbade the beating of women. She is now having to prove that her comments were not putting her much loved religion, Islam, in dispute – and if her defence is not successful the penalty may be as much as three years in jail.

I had the privilege of co-hosting Hamidah the day before the breakfast with Ellen May Eaton from UNIFEM. Hamidah is a very warm, down to earth lady, who is exceedingly well educated. She did her undergraduate degree in Scotland, her Masters in Malaysia through the University of Sydney and her PhD via an American University. She is a single mother of a 17 year old daughter who was awaiting her 'O' level results at home. Hamidah is so easy to be with and she thoroughly enjoyed our visit to Cottesloe Beach to admire the sculptures and a visit to King's Park (including the Pioneer Women's Memorial). That evening the three of us visited a lovely halal Indian Restaurant in Leederville with Anne Banks-McAllister, Anne's mother and Tracey Hirst (UNIFEM Treasurer).

As much as $15,000 may have been raised for the morning! Just think how many women that amount of money will be able to help!

2. West Australian of the Year 2009

Penny Flett

Becoming WA Australian of the Year for 2009 was an extraordinary honour and privilege.

To rub shoulders, even very briefly, with David Wirrpanda – the WA Young Australian of the Year - was magic. To be associated with Pat Dodson – WA Senior Australian of the Year - already a hero of mine, was amazing. And to have the great pleasure of getting to know Graham Drewe, who went on to be the National Local Hero, has been an experience worth bottling – he’s a remarkable man, an ordinary bloke, saving rock fishermen’s lives.

We went to Canberra for the big event for Australia Day announcements.....morning tea with the Prime Minister at The Lodge, lunch at Government House....this in a huge marquee in the beautiful grounds by Lake Burley Griffin. That was very special. And I chatted for ages with Glen McGrath and Adam Gilchrist – eat your hearts out, everyone!!

Coming back to earth, the year seemed to get busier and busier – many speaking engagements – some of them a lot of fun, especially the Breast Screening Awareness launch, with everyone decked out in very bright pink. I’ve opened conferences, made speeches, shared the platform with Mick Dodson, listened and learned.

But the best was a grand finish to my year. I went as Australia Day Ambassador for Australia Day 2010 – to – Newman – hot as hot, friendly as anything, and made me feel truly Australian. I mixed it with miners, aboriginal kids, Shire officials, the local GP, shopkeepers, entrepreneurs, business people. I learned a lot in a short time about East Pilbara, it’s the biggest shire in the world! I felt very humble, and very proud.

It’s been a remarkable year, and proves again, women can do more than one thing at once,.....and keep the ‘day job’ going !!

3. Lotterywest Workshop:- Women Working Together

Mary Gurgone

Sharing ideas and energy with other women’s organizations, in order to access funding, was a key aim of the Zonta Club of Perth Lotterywest Workshop on 7th November 2009. The workshop was an overwhelming success. It showed the extent of the need and desire for opportunities to chat and make strategic links amongst women’s organisations.

About 30 women attended, representing a wide array of women’s groups. We were delighted to have representatives of Aboriginal women from Broome, as well as Perth based Aboriginal women. Richness of the discussion was partly due to the women’s groups, including representation of women from Universities, health, refuges, business, sport, multicultural, gynaecology, welfare and place based, to mention a few.

The kind of feedback from the day came spontaneously via email. Large international organisations as well as small unincorporated groups advised that they found the day “useful, excellent for networking and a great opportunity to find ways of collaborating with other like-minded women’s groups to apply for Lotterywest grants”.

The workshop coincided with the Foundation Day dinner and provided Zonta Clubs from non-metropolitan areas with the opportunity to attend. There was a strong Zonta presence, both from the Service and Advocacy members present and the generous contribution made by Service and Advocacy member, Fiona Crowe, who secured the venue, morning tea and lunch at St Catherine’s at no cost. Lucy Reynolds joined her colleague, Fiona, in the afternoon as a speaker.

The workshop has resulted in about half a dozen applications to Lotterywest already and some of them are joint ones that were borne at the workshop. Furthermore a number of organisations have started collaborating as a result of meeting at the workshop.

All in all, a successful day that demonstrated the power of women working together!

4. Introduction of new member:- Joy Zec

Carole welcomes Joy Zec to Zonta Club of Perth.

It was with great pleasure that the club welcomed Joy Zec at the February meeting. Joy has transferred from the Zonta Club of Swan Hills. She is married to Zoran, a bus driver and they have two beautiful daughters, Cassandra and Christine, both of whom are at university.

Joy had a few false starts with tertiary education and finally completed her first degree in public relations in 2002 after six years. She found it difficult to find employment in this field so did casual work instead with events management, conference organising, and limousine driving including funeral work, electrical safety presentations, temporary work and as a daycare worker.

Still searching for her passion at the age of 40, Joy found it in 2006 when she completed a graduate diploma in primary school teaching and hasn't looked back. She has always combined "paid" work with "unpaid" work. She is proud of her achievements as a Zontian, netball coach, calisthenics president, tree planter, red cross door-knocker, student mentor, ECU Ambassador, with the FINA 8th World Swimming Championships, photographic exhibition minder and young originals curator.

A friend asked Joy recently how she would like to be remembered. Her response was, "In my failings I was humble enough to listen to advice given and have the determination to continue with the path I had set. I also wanted to be remembered as having altruistic qualities."

Joy's favourite hobbies include everything associated with cooking and eating, tennis, bush-walking, going to the movies and coffee. Recently, she has taken up travelling, reading and joining the Word Witches Book Club, boxing and yoga. Joy has a bucket list but that's another story... Welcome Joy!

5. February's International Dinner Meeting

Not surprisingly the fire alarms went off a second later!

The weather was perfect for our International Dinner Meeting, at Karen's on February 11th. Karen and her helpers had been busy all day with the many and varied preparations needed, including adorning the tables with flags and maps, before everyone began arriving soon after 6pm.

Each committee prepared and displayed the following foods:-

- Service and Advocacy: Italian/Greek
- Membership and Program: Indian food
- Awards and Holidays: Curry Thai with side dishes and platter of Indian finger food with condiments.
- PR and Archives: Best of British – Ploughman's lunch
- Events and Fellowship: Middle Eastern

After much fellowship, including a group photo of the street marching banner for the archives, we all enjoyed our feast! A short business meeting followed where we were able to welcome Joy Zec as a new member, acknowledge Fiona Crowe and Diana Rigg being nominated as finalists in the WA Business News 40 under 40 awards and congratulate new grandmothers, Gillian Palmer and Sharron Hickey!

Sadly, charter member, Yvonne Roberts had passed away during the summer break and members took great delight in sharing anecdotes of Yvonne's 39 active years with the Club. Everyone lit a sparkler in remembrance of her, setting off the fire alarms in the process!

Many thanks to Karen and Bill for opening their home for the event and donating the wine consumed, to Mary and Aldo for moving all the chairs and tables and everyone who helped to make the evening a very pleasant occasion. In total, about $1400 was raised for Zonta projects – a great start to the year!

7. Monster Garage Sale – March 14th

An absolutely huge thank you to Deb Mason for bearing the brunt of the organization of this event. There were too many items to fit in a garage so the carpark at St Catherine's had to be used!

Special thanks to Fiona Crowe for allowing the use of the squash courts to store the items, to Sciona Browne, Wendy MacGibbon, Lyn McArthur, Lois Joll, Lennie McCall and Karina Moore for their help in pricing, setting up and selling. Over $700 was raised! In addition, four more boxes of clothing were gathered for the communities in the Kimberley, one box of shoes will go to the refuge and there is enough left over to sell at a car boot sale – for at last we have got the amount down to a manageable size to transport!

If you would like to join Carole on Sunday 28th March between 6am and noon, at the Broadway car park to sell the remaining items, please email her at zontaperth@yahoo.com.au. If you have a ute or van or trailer, you will be especially welcome!!
